Can my cat eat that?

Food safety chart for cats

No: never feed

- Alcohol
- Chocolate
- Coffee & caffeine
- Cooked bones
- Garlic
- Grapes & raisins
- Leeks, chives & spring onions
- Lilies (not a food, but deadly)
- Nutmeg
- Onions
- Raw yeast dough
- Rhubarb
- Salty food
- Star fruit

If your pet ate something toxic

1. Take away what's left and keep the packaging.
2. Note what it was, how much and when.
3. Call your vet or an animal poison line right away.
4. Don't make your pet vomit unless told to.

My vet's phone: _____

Careful: small amounts, prepared safely

- Apricots
- Avocado
- Baby food
- Bacon
- Bananas
- Beans
- Bread
- Brussels sprouts
- Butter
- Cabbage
- Cheese
- Cherries
- Cinnamon
- Citrus fruit
- Coconut
- Corn
- Cream
- Deli meat
- Dog food
- Dried fruit
- Fat trimmings & skin
- Figs
- Gravy
- Ham
- Honey
- Hot dogs & sausages
- Ice cream
- Kale
- Kiwi
- Liver
- Mango
- Milk & dairy
- Mushrooms
- Nuts
- Olives
- Pasta
- Peaches
- Peanut butter
- Pineapple
- Plums
- Pomegranate
- Popcorn
- Pork
- Potatoes
- Raspberries
- Raw fish & sushi
- Raw meat
- Shrimp (prawns)
- Spicy food
- Spinach
- Tofu
- Tomatoes
- Tuna
- Tuna water
- Xylitol
- Yoghurt

Yes: fine as a plain treat

- Apples
- Asparagus
- Beef
- Bell peppers
- Blueberries
- Broccoli
- Cantaloupe
- Carrots
- Cat grass
- Catnip
- Cauliflower
- Celery
- Chicken
- Cranberries
- Cucumbers
- Eggs
- Fish (cooked)
- Green beans
- Honeydew
- Lamb
- Lettuce
- Oatmeal (oats)
- Pears
- Peas
- Pumpkin
- Quinoa
- Rice
- Salmon
- Sardines
- Strawberries
- Sweet potatoes
- Turkey
- Watermelon
- Zucchini (courgette)